

The Cactus Has a Second Arm!aa

Unfortunately for us, intimidation, cyberattacks, and dubious maneuvers seem to be part of the current Monegasque landscape. Our Principality has become a hostile work environment for those who seek to shed light on the truth. Those who seek to bring justice to those who abuse their power. And those who simply want to live a good life.

This is why our team, which is tasked with sharing difficult truths with the world, has been under increasing attack recently. In the face of so much danger, we want to assure you that there will always be a safe space to share our message.

We love Monaco, not for its bling-bling lifestyle, not for its concrete and glitter, but for its spirit and its people. And as long as we can inform you and you can laugh at the absurdity of the schemers, lackeys, hucksters, pompous people, courtiers, and sycophants around us, this work will always be worth doing.

So, welcome to the Real Cactus of Monaco! And know that your passion as citizens inspires us all here. Please continue to send us your stories and opinions to realcactusdemonaco@protonmail.com.
